The Senate [illegible] amendments made [illegible] Bill No. 9, relating to [illegible] Justices of the [illegible]

[illegible]

House B[illegible] act relating to [illegible] teachers' [illegible] was finally passed [illegible] was made of House [illegible] appropriating $[illegible] sewerage for the State [illegible]

The following [illegible] without discussion: House B[illegible] tery authorizing [illegible] panies and corporations [illegible] purpose to become sureties [illegible] bonds of public officers [illegible] in judicial proceedings. House Bill No. [illegible] relating to electric light [illegible] House Bill No. 4 [illegible] in which suit may be brought [illegible] when the cause of action [illegible] the State; House B[illegible] regulating [illegible] the indigent and [illegible] House bill No. 334 (Hunter) providing [illegible] the assessment and collection of [illegible] the years 1893 and 1894 for the [illegible] the State Capitol; House bill No. [illegible] (Booth), amending section [illegible] 8 of chapter 108 of the general statutes; House bill No. [illegible] amending certain sections of the criminal code; House Bill No. 22 (Broad) making Saturdays in the months of [illegible] August half holidays in Denver; House Bill No. 224 (Page) creating State and county Boards of Horticulture and providing for the extermination of insect pests; House Bill No. 15 (Bonynge) amending the act relating to corporations; House Bill No. 450 (Lowell), repealing the act enabling counties to refund their bonded debt; House Bill No. 179 (Bonynge) appropriating $6,390.36 for the relief of the [illegible] & Cleveland Lithographing company.

Recess until this evening.

At to-night's session the conference committee's report on Wickes annexation bill has been adopted, as was also that committee's report on the Fee and Salary bill. Senate Bill No. 19 (Johnson) abolishing detective agencies was passed by a vote of [illegible] to 14. Numerous other bills passed their third reading.

At 1:30 the members of the House [illegible] gaged in making charges [illegible] of receiving bribes [illegible] and a lively row [illegible]

Some State Nominations.

DENVER, April [illegible] Governor Waite [illegible] the following nominations [illegible] the senate: For [illegible] control of the State [illegible] Williams of Denver.

For members of the State Board of Agriculture: J. S. M[illegible] B. S. La[illegible] field, of [illegible] Ford.

For members of the State Board of Charities and Corrections: J. Max Clark, of Greeley; J. Warner Mills, of Denver.

To be state veterinary surgeon: Charles Gresswelle, of Denver.

Republican Successes in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., April [illegible] Elections were held in all the second and third class towns in Kansas to-day for mayor, councilmen and members of the school board. In many of the towns a straight Republican ticket was nominated and in nearly every instance the Democrats and Populists combined against them. In a number of towns "citizens" tickets were nominated by the Democrats and Republicans, the intention being to rebuke the Populists for their acts last winter. Reports received from the various towns are meager, but the most of them show the election of the Republican tickets. The women have generally voted and against the Populists wherever they had a ticket. The election in cities of the first class, Topeka, Wichita, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City and Fort Scott will be held to-morrow.

In Topeka the contest will be very exciting. There are three tickets in the field, Republican, Democratic and Independent. The Democracy is split wide open and about half of that vote will go to Collins, Independent, for Mayor. Most of the Populists will vote for Collins, but there are few of them in Topeka. Fifteen hundred women will vote for Collins, and this will make the fight about even.

The Republican Central committee has issued the following:

"Determined to follow the new election law to the letter, the Republican central committee has recalled all their orders for hacks and conveyances which had been hired for election day. Under the law as construed by the Attorney General of the State no hacks or rigs of any kind can be hired to convey voters to or from the polls. Any committee, candidate or person in behalf of any candidate or party who hires a conveyance for this purpose is liable to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 or imprisonment not less than two years, besides making the candidate hiring the same liable to forfeit his office if elected. The law does not, however, prevent persons [illegible] volunteering them to the use of any [illegible] nor does it prevent any person [illegible] ing at the polls all day [illegible] Republican Central Committee [illegible] publicans to turn out [illegible] on Tuesday and assist in getting [illegible] to the polls."

Voting for a Dead Man.

STEUBENVILLE, O., April [illegible] South, the Republican candidate [illegible] ship trustee suddenly [illegible] tion day. There are no [illegible] many Republican voters have [illegible] for a dead man without kno[illegible] Republicans who learned of [illegible] fairs were confronted with the [illegible] either voting for the dead man or for the Democratic candidate. The [illegible] confronts all concerned as to how the votes must be counted and the [illegible] tion arises as to whether the Democrats qualify if the dead Republican [illegible] votes, of which there is a [illegible] bility. Steubenville being a [illegible] stronghold.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—For Colorado: [illegible]

LAW OF STRIKES.

A Battle in Brazil.

[illegible] while the loss of the [illegible] was also very heavy. [illegible] at Alegrete, and when the state troops attempted to dislodge them from their vantage ground they made a desperate fight. It is said that there was [illegible] engaged on both sides, and that [illegible] were killed and a large number wounded. The State troops were driven back, and the revolutionists have now entrenched away at Alegrete, which has been their base of operations against the government. It is stated that the troops will be reinforced and another attempt made to drive the insurgents from their position. The national government has as yet taken no active steps to support the state government.

The Choctaw Troubles.

PARIS, TEX., April 3.—It looks as though all agreements to have peace between the Choctaw factions had been disregarded. Last night the militia agreed to disband and go home. To-night they are drinking and declare they will move on Locke. If they continue in their present mood a fight will come off before to-morrow to-night. Locke has sufficient food for 100 days' siege. Both sides are about equal in number. The Choctaw government is issuing scrip to meet its necessary expenses. It seems now that martial law is inevitable, as the militia has broken faith with Bennett. That is what Locke desires, as he will then feel secure.

Thought to Be the Naronic.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Interest in the mysterious fate of the White Star line freight Naronic was awakened yesterday upon the arrival of the British ship Trafalgar of Glasgow, fifty-two days out from Rio Janeiro. The Trafalgar came by way of the Delaware Breakwater. The captain reported that on Mar[illegible], when in the gulf stream, he passed the [illegible] mast of a large wood vessel. The [illegible] and the Trafalgar passed [illegible] in the water.

[illegible] wreckage is from the missing Naronic. The [illegible] and shape of the mast [illegible] and further reports [illegible] course taken by the Trafalgar are awaited with interest.

The Bratsberg Koppe arrived in this port yesterday morning and her captain reported that [illegible] he passed part of the hull of a wooden vessel with eighteen large iron knees, standing eight feet out of the water. The vessel is a terrible obstruction to navigation and a vessel coming in contact with her will almost surely founder.

Easter at the White House.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Ten thousand school children celebrated Easter Monday here on the White House grounds by rolling multi-colored Easter eggs down the grassy hills. It is a custom at the White House and has never been broken save by rain and the illness last year in the Harrison family. The day was perfect for the sport and just warm enough to dress the children in white and without wraps. They came early, began their play at once, starting their eggs at the top of the hills, chasing them to the bottom, eating those that broke and carrying the rest to the hilltops to start them again. The famous Marine band came in the afternoon and played for several hours. Baby Ruth looked down upon the scene from the balcony and clapped her chubby hands and crowed, while Mrs. Cleveland and a number of friends seemed to enjoy it all as much as any one. Once the President paused in his work and looked out the window. A fresh faced school boy saw him and impulsively cried, "Say, boys, there's Grover. Hurrah!" A big cheer followed, the president smiled, bowed, disappeared and was seen no more.

A Distinguished Scientist.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Prince Roland Bonaparte, grand nephew of Napoleon Bonaparte, landed at New York yesterday on the French liner Bretagne. He was accompanied by M. Bonani and M. Lesdin of the Paris press, M. Depererdan, formerly of the French navy and Dr. P. Topinard. The Prince's object, as he said, in coming to America is to pursue his favorite study of American archaeology, on which he is now an authority. He is also an anthropologist and has written twenty three works on this subject.

A Riot at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Colo., April 3.—A bloody fight took place here about 1 o'clock this morning, about twenty Italians being the participants. Knives and [illegible] were used to argue the important points.

All day yesterday and until late in the evening heavy drinking had been indulged in by the Italians and as a result of the [illegible] which occurred early this morning [illegible] Marchand is lying at the point of death with a pistol hole through his breast.

Whisky the Cause.

[illegible] desperate fight occurred between a gang [illegible] had been drinking together [illegible] Mar[illegible] was fatally shot and [illegible] Cassetta and Jack Andre and [illegible] whose names [illegible] were [illegible]

It is impossible to learn what started the [illegible] that whisky was the cause.

A Hotel Burned.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., April 3.—Fire [illegible] hotel early this morning [illegible] rapidly to other buildings [illegible] About a dozen structures in nearly [illegible] from a back window and rescued [illegible] they died in a short time. There were a number of narrow escapes. The fire was caused by the upsetting of a lamp.

CITY COUNCIL.

The Council Withdraws its Resolution [illegible] Sexton Wright.

CITY CLERK CORMAN'S SHORTAGE.

The Councilmen Favor the Big Main up [illegible] Street. A Good Deal of Wrangling Characterized the Meeting.

[illegible]

F[illegible] Harrison and Mitchell reported having [illegible] the books of ex-Clerk Harriott and [illegible] correct.

Alderman Taylor presented the [illegible] tax receipt for the taxes on the city ranches for 1891 and 1892. The rates were paid last year for taxes by mistake.

The monthly reports of the City Clerk, City Marshal, fire companies and Police Magistrate were read. All were accepted except the clerk's, which had not been sworn to, Alderman Gillingham objecting.

Alderman Davis presented the following:

Whereas, At a recent meeting of the City Council a resolution was introduced and passed requiring the City Sexton to make a report of the business of his office for the past year and requiring that said report be made within twenty four hours, and

Whereas, Said report was made within the specified time, but has not been presented to the council by the cemetery committee but instead a report on his report made by the committee was presented and adopted. Now be it

Resolved, That the action of this council regarding this whole matter be and is hereby rescinded.

Alderman Gillingham said the adoption of such a resolution would be preposterous.

Alderman Robbins said the Cemetery committee had received Mr. Wright's report, and checked the amounts and found them not correct. It had presented its report, not Mr. Wright's and both could have been seen by the councilmen.

In the vote on the adoption of the resolution all voted aye but Gillingham, Robbins and Finegan.

Alderman Gillingham thought such a proceeding was outrageous. There is no check on any man connected with the city. A man who would vote in such a way ought to be ashamed of himself. It was time some of them were getting out of the council. He would let the people know all about them. The Alderman got quite angry and had to be called to order by the Mayor.

Alderman Robbins said before he went out of office he would make another report in the matter and prove everything alleged.

To pacify matters somewhat Alderman Finegan moved that the matter be referred back to the committee and the city attorney. But the motion never reached a vote. A motion was finally adopted that the reports of Mr. Wright and of the committee be placed on file and that the two experts be directed to check off Mr. Wright's books.

A motion by Alderman Taylor was adopted that the Ordinance committee draw up an ordinance requiring the city Treasurer to [illegible] for digging graves hereafter.

An ordinance was introduced by Alderman Taylor regulating water motors. The ordinance is designed to prevent the making of connections with the city mains for the purpose of operating water motors of more than one-half horse power. They shall not be tapped for running elevators or machinery by motors. All such now in use must be removed by Dec. 1, 1893. The ordinance went over under the rules.

Alderman Taylor presented the following, which was adopted without much discussion:

Resolved, That the city attorney be and he is hereby instructed to proceed forthwith to the collection of the amounts due the city from A. H. Corman, late city clerk, and his bondsmen; and when in his opinion it shall be necessary so to do, to insure such collections, that he bring the necessary suits therefor.

Alderman Leech offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Council that as soon as the incoming Council be organized immediate steps be taken toward the construction of a large main on both North and South Tejon street according to the plans of Rudolph Hering and adopted by this council, to afford a better water supply to these portions of the city.

The Council refused to audit the city accounts. Alderman Gillingham objected to allowing the Mayor's salary. He could not understand why a man in California should draw a salary. Acting Mayor Davis explained that he drew the Mayor's salary as he was doing the work. He was not also drawing his salary as alderman, but leaving it in the city funds. After an unusual amount of wrangling and explaining the objection was withdrawn.

Mr. Gillingham asked that a part of the salary of the city sexton be withheld until he has satisfied the council regarding his books. This brought up the Wright matter again which was discussed for about an hour. It was stated that one day with a committee and the experts could probably settle the whole difficulty, yet a large part of three evenings has been expended by the council in discussing the matter and all that has been done is the adoption of a resolution which has been withdrawn.

Alderman Robbins wanted the whole of the sexton's salary withheld. He said the whole point of the controversy is whether Mr. Wright is or is not responsible for graves that have been dug and not paid for. The City Attorney held that he was probably responsible in cases where he had not made a proper effort to get the money.

Alderman Taylor said he wanted to see the salary paid for the month. He said there was a probability that Mr. Wright was not responsible. Many poor people have graves dug and cannot pay for them. Others have graves dug who would not pay for them if they had ever so much money and others forget and leave the city without paying. It was hardly fair to hold Mr. Wright responsible. He declared that there were many people who said this whole matter was hatched up to injure Mr. Wright's chances of election as Alderman in the Fifth ward. This [illegible] should leave the matter alone until after election.

Alderman Robbins plainly declared any man a liar who said he was party to such a thing.

The vote to withhold the salary was lost.

Alderman Gillinghan then protested against paying the whole batch of bills. In the meantime Aldermen Robbins and Leech had quietly slipped out of the room and started for home. A bit of confusion followed but a count of noses showed six present, a quorum. On the motion to adopt the bills [illegible] Gillingham and Finegan voted no, but the latter afterwards explained that he did not comprehend the effect of the mo[illegible]

SENATE EXTRA SESSION.

[illegible]

When Mr. [illegible] concluded his speech Mr. [illegible] took the floor [illegible] yielded to a decision of an executive session and made a motion to that effect and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of executive business and afterwards adjourned until to-morrow.

WILL SOON ADJOURN.

It is the general impression in the Senate that the extra session of that body will adjourn the first or middle of next week. When the contested election cases are disposed of it is not likely that a quorum will remain in the city, as there have already been some departures and many others will leave as soon as the cases are out of the way. There are some who think that an adjournment can be had by the last of the week.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

The Senate was in secret session this afternoon more than an hour and at the end of that time only a few postmasters were given out as having been confirmed. This was, however, the most unimportant part of the session. The Behring sea correspondence and the cases of the government were submitted to the Senate but not read. The Russian treaty was then taken up and demanded the attention of the Senators for some time. The recent criticisms of this treaty in the newspapers of the country have given the instrument something of a political tinge, and the Senate is no nearer a solution of the question, whether or not to release the injunction of secrecy, than it was a week or so ago.

The Best Smokeless Powder.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—A Virginia man appears to have produced the best smokeless powder which the army has tested up to this date. The test was recently held at the Frankford, Pa., arsenal, with the expected results, and a request was sent for additional and large quantities of the powder. The composition came from Leonard Mason, who has not been known as a chemist to ordnance experts.

The report of another successful attempt to produce similar powder was received from California, and the firm is engaged in developing the powder recently tested with good results.

Brazil's Exhibits.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Fifteen members of the Brazilian commission to the World's Fair, including seven members of the Brazilian Woman's commission, were passengers in the United States and Brazil mail steamship Segurama, which arrived from Brazil and Windward Island ports yesterday. About 500 tons of exhibits, forming a part of the display from various states of the Brazilian Republic, are being unloaded from the vessel to-day. The Baron of Majavo, special commissioner, says the exhibit on the Segurame includes 1750 packages.

"We will not," said the Baron, "have as good an exhibition as I hoped, though the Brazilians are greatly interested in the Fair. It will in part consist of nuts, sugar, coffee, rubber, the industrial products of Rio Janeiro, marine machinery and the fine arts, including fifty magnificent paintings and a number of statues. There are other features which I cannot call to mind. Every State in the republic will have a display of some kind. Our President is now in Chicago, and we will go on there in a few days."

Another Cruiser.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 3.—The cruiser Detroit started for Newport, R. I., this morning for her official trip. The Navy department has selected a course in Narragansett bay for the effort. An average speed of seventeen knots an hour during a run of four consecutive hours at sea will have to be made by the new cruiser in order that her builders may fulfill the terms of the contract. For every quarter of a knot over seventeen the contractor will be paid $25,000 by the government. The builders are satisfied that a speed of at least eighteen knots will be maintained in the trial.

Guilty of Conspiracy.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 3.—Leading officials of the Builders Exchange here were to-day found guilty of conspiracy for combining for restraint of trade. Judge White in his charge scored illegal combinations of both capital and labor. He said that if the action of the builders was in self-defense of its members or to protect its members from the aggressions made in the demands for increased wages by the bricklayers it was right, but if it was done as a malicious act to oppress contractors who were willing to pay the wages asked for, and to annoy and harrass the bricklayers it was unlawful.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

Mary Learned Bartlett, wife of ex-President Bartlett of Dartmouth college, died suddenly yesterday at Hanover, N. H.

Congressman C. E. Hooker of Mississippi was very seriously hurt by a cable car in Washington, but will probably recover.

Heavy snows are reported in Washington and four inches fell yesterday in Tacoma. No eastern trains have arrived for three days.

The factory of the American Tobacco company in New York, formerly occupied by W. Duke, Sons & Co., was destroyed by fire. Loss $[illegible].

Miss Cornelia Martin of New York, is to marry the Earl of Craven of England, in Grace church, Tuesday, April 18, at noon. The bride is not yet 17.

Reports from South Dakota say that immigrants are pouring into the State from all sides, and railroads are running extra trains to accommodate the traffic.

Treasury agents at Portland, Ore., have discovered that prominent persons are engaged in smuggling Chinese into the country. Sensational developments are promised.

C. H. Hamilton of Chicago has arrived in Seattle, Wash., from Alaska. He traveled 1500 miles up the Yukon river and [illegible] the mountains to Chilkoot in the dead of winter on snowshoes.

Three of the forest fires in southern New Jersey are still burning, doing thousands of dollars' worth of damage. Many fences and fruit orchards have been destroyed, but it is hoped to stop the fires by back-firing.

The 5,000 union carpenters employed at the World's Fair grounds struck because the Fair officials refused to discharge all non-union carpenters now in the employ of the [illegible] to [illegible] at work on [illegible] to do the same.

CITIZENS' NOMINATIONS.

For Mayor,
WILLIAM M. STRICKLER.
For City Treasurer,
MOSES T. HALE.

NOW VOTE.

Every reasonable argument demands the election of the Citizens' municipal ticket by a large majority, and every reasonable forecast points to the triumph of Messrs. Strickler and Hale. If this result is not accomplished it will be chiefly due to the indifference of many of our citizens and their neglect of a solemn duty. Every one who is entitled to do so should vote, and vote for the best interests of the city.

It will not do to underestimate the strength of the opposition. Every weapon of unscrupulous partisanship has been brought into play to disguise real issues and to mask selfishness as patriotism. Certain abuses in the conduct of the city affairs, already exposed and already corrected, have been paraded as though they were still existing and as though their reform depended upon the swarm of hungry place hunters whose leaders already fill the offices of the State government with incompetence. From Denver, Pueblo, Leadville, Aspen and dozens of minor cities comes the cry of the Populists, "The organization of the new party must be firmly established, and this can only be done by the spoils of office." In Colorado Springs the cry is less loud, but the principle is none the less firmly held. Do the people of Colorado Springs wish the city government administered for the benefit of the Populist party?

Happily circumstances permit opposition to this greed of office and to this fanatic partisanship upon most favorable grounds. We set not party against party, but advocate the welfare of all as against the greed of a few. We oppose the Populists, not as Republicans or Democrats, but as citizens; we oppose the partisan politicians not as partisans of another creed, but as business men.

The principle involved is whether city officers shall be selected for their competence and their experience, or for their political relations to the Populist party.

The magnitude of the issue demands a conclusive result. The Citizens majority should leave no doubt as to the will of the people.

For the cause of good government and the welfare of the city, let every one vote for Strickler and Hale.

DR. STRICKLER AND WORKING MEN.

As is known to many Dr. Strickler is a man of considerable business enterprise. He always has laboring men in his employ, sometimes quite a number. His friendship for his employees is also well known. He is very liberal in his settlements with the men, it being a thing unknown for him to dispute with them as to their wages. In fact he has always shown himself willing to over pay them rather than have them feel they were not fully compensated for their services. On the other hand in rendering professional services to men of moderate means he has always been noted for his leniency and moderate charges—in a large proportion of cases refusing any compensation whatever, especially when he knew the means [illegible] could be spared with [illegible]. There is probably not a man in the city who mingles more with the working classes or who has more consideration for the deserving poor than our candidate for mayor on the Citizens ticket. The following note is an illustration of many cases of the same sort and shows Dr. Strickler's usual course of action in such cases:

To the Editor of The Gazette.

Those who assert that Dr. Strickler is an aristocrat and unfriendly to laboring men simply display their prejudice or ignorance of the man. Such as allow evidently come from [illegible] have never had any dealings with him. As small straws show which way the wind blows, the following occurrence will speak for itself. About six months ago I had occasion to consult the Doctor at his office on account of ill health. He gave me a careful examination and wrote a prescription. I asked him what his charge was, and he replied $1.00. Then said he, you are a laboring man? I replied I was. Then said he, "Give me half a dollar."

These few words show to an unprejudiced man that the stuff thrown around the streets in certain papers about the doctor is the worst kind of rot. As a matter of fact he is one of the kindest hearted men I have ever had any dealings with.

Yours respectfully,
CHAS. [illegible]

[illegible] seems to be a pretty complete answer to the baseless charges of the [illegible] sheets.

In voting for Dr. Strickler to-day for Mayor you will cast a ballot for a friend of all honest men, be they rich or poor.

THE NEW FRENCH CABINET.

A Ministry that needs as many votes of confidence as M. Ribot's is not likely to last long, and at last the inevitable has happened and M. Ribot and his colleagues have resigned. The outgoing Ministers who assumed office January 11 were: M. Ribot, Prime Minister and Minister of the Interior, M. Develle, Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Tirard, Minister of Finance, M. Bourgeois, Minister of Justice, General Loizillon, Minister of War, Admiral Rieunier, Minister of Marine and the Colonies, M. Dupuy, Minister of Public Instruction, M. Viger, Minister of Agriculture, M. Siegfried, Minister of Commerce, M. Viette, Minister of Public Works. Ever since this Ministry came into power the opponents of the Government have sought an opportunity to overthrow them. The Panama scandal, it was thought, would afford the opposition the desired opportunity; but though more than once attacks were made none proved successful, the Chamber each time voting confidence in the government and discomfiting their enemies, until last week, when they were ousted on a vote on a liquor licensing clause.

It was expected that M. Develle would be called upon to form the new Cabinet, but it seems that all the ministers had agreed to stand or fall together. M. Develle, however, although he would not act as Premier, will continue in the department of Foreign affairs. General Loizillon and Admiral Rieunier will also remain in the new cabinet, but on the whole it is considered to be only a makeshift. M. Meline, the new Premier, is not considered by any means a statesman of the first or even of the second rank, and no one seems to expect him to retain leadership even as long as M. Ribot succeeded in doing.

THE PROTEST AGAINST MAX JUDD.

It appears that the appointment of Mr. Max Judd of St. Louis to be Consul General of the United States at Vienna has stirred up the anti-Semites of the Austrian capital, who are vigorously protesting against the reception of any man of the Jewish race as a representative there.

Eight years ago a somewhat similar case occurred. Mr. Cleveland named Mr. Anthony Keiley as Minister to Italy. Mr. Keiley had been a warm advocate of the temporal rights of the Pope, and so was persona non grata at King Humbert's court. Then he was sent to Austria, but there he was no better off, for his wife is a Jewess, and the Austrian government would not receive him. At last a berth was found for him in Egypt, and there he has been ever since.

A Minister and a Consul General stand on different footings diplomatically. The Consul General has little or nothing to do with diplomacy. He is, or ought to be, a business agent of his government. Mr. Judd will probably not have occasion to visit the court, and it certainly should make no difference to the Austrian government from what race he is sprung.

Judd is a good business man, we presume. He runs a clothing store in St. Louis, and is a man of good address and a gentleman in dress and manners. He is a first-rate chess player too—"but that is another story."

President Cleveland may, for the sake of complaisance, withdraw Mr. Judd's name; but we should think such a course improbable and unnecessary.

The sale of the New York Times to a syndicate of which its present editor-in-chief, Mr. Charles R. Miller, and its managing editor, Mr. George F. Spinney, are members, will probably make no change in its policy. The paper is capitalized at $1,000,000, and among the heavy stockholders are Charles R. Flint of Peru, President H. B. Hyde of the Equitable and President H. W. Cannon of the Chase bank.

The eighty-second birthday of ex-President McCosh of Princeton afforded an opportunity for his numerous friends throughout the country to express their appreciation. The Doctor is one of those happy mortals who find time and strength in the evening of a long and busy life to set down for the instruction and entertainment of younger men their reminiscences and experiences.

The Israel bill for consolidating the State Institutions under one board of managers is dead, and the Institute for the Deaf and Blind will be conducted by its own Board of Trustees. For this result much credit is due to the representatives from El Paso county, in both houses.

Bismarck received congratulations Saturday on his 78th birthday from everybody who is anybody in particular, except the Kaiser. A rather important exception, this, which seems to show that the [illegible] rumors that William is trying to make up his quarrel with the old Prince are without foundation.

It is something of a relief to see the city campaigns in Denver, Cripple Creek and this city in which the silver question has scarcely been mentioned. When it comes to city affairs, there are other things of more [illegible] page.

A Telephonic Newspaper.

The London Standard's Vienna correspondent [illegible] of the very newest thing in [illegible] was a Bellamy idea translated into fact. The first so-called "telephonic newspaper" appeared in Pesth yesterday. In other words, the latest items of news, political, local, commercial, sporting and other, are sent out from a central office by telephone to the subscribers, who for this intelligence pay the very modest sum of seventy-five cents a month. This novel undertaking comprises at its central office two departments, a regular editorial office, which receives the telegraphic and oral messages and works them up into leaders or paragraphs, and a special telephone publishing department where experienced speakers, each possessing a soft but distinct voice, transmit through the instruments the contents of the manuscripts delivered from hour to hour by the first department.

There are two languages used—German and Hungarian. The news includes stock exchange quotations and financial articles, reports of theatrical performances, book reviews and paragraphs on all the miscellaneous topics found in a daily newspaper. The subscribers who receive the news have a square wooden tablet before them, from which are suspended two tubes long enough to reach their ears when they are sitting in an easy chair or at a writing desk or even when lying in bed. The service commences at 8 o'clock in the morning and lasts until 9 in the evening. The novelty has so far been very well received in the Hungarian capital.

PLUCKED FROM THE BURNING.

A Humble Salvation Army Soldier Adds a Star to His Crown.

The man wore the regulation dress of the Salvation Army, the blue uniform with brass buttons and red letters across the breast. He walked slowly, with his head bowed as if in deep thought or study, and more than once he raised his eyes only just in time to avoid a collision with some pedestrian coming toward him.

And so it was that when a woman, a flashy, tawdry thing arrayed in cheap finery which was soiled and stained and draggled, accosted him she spoke twice before he looked up.

When he saw the flushed face, girlish even in its reckless abandonment, an expression of sorrow came into his eyes, and her own fell beneath his earnest gaze.

"Why, sissy!"

He said this reproachfully, as though she were no wicked woman at all, but a naughty, wayward child. The girl's cheeks showed a deeper crimson through their coat of paint, and she stood irresolute as though undecided whether to turn and run away or to stay.

"Where's your ma?" the man asked at length.

"I dunno."

"Ain't you got no folks?"

"It's none o' your business," the woman answered defiantly, tossing her head as if ashamed of her momentary humility.

"Yes, 'tis. That's wot I'm wearin' these here regimentals for. It's my business to help poor sufferin' people I reckon. I find 'em. An you're sick at heart an sufferin this very minute in spite o' all that there red paint an that laugh." For there was a look of anguish in the girl's eyes which gave the lie to her forced smile and air of gayety.

"Yes, you're ashamed an sick an tired o' the whole business, an you'd quit it if you could, only you dassent start in tryin. Come, now, ain't that so?"

The head bowed until the flimsy plumes on the showy hat fell forward as if trying to peep under the rim to see whence came the drops which were splashing down on the red chapped hands.

"There ain't no use," the girl began.

"Tut, tut," interrupted the man, "ain't you never heard of Mary Magdalene? She was"—he hesitated, embarrassed—"worse than you be," he finally said, "and our Lord he forgave her sins 1,800 years ago, an you needn't tell me he's been lookin down on this earth all the time sence without gettin sadder and sorrier for them that goes wrong. There wasn't no shop girls gettin $2 and $3 a week, an tryin to live decent on that when he was here else he'd probably have forgave more than wot he did.

"There, there, now, don't take on so. Come along to our barracks. It's nice and warm there for the poor creature was sobbing and shivering now. The girls they'll talk to you better than wot I can, for I'm only a rough sort of a chap at best."

Together the two passed down the street and [illegible] through the doorway of the big [illegible] building of the Salvation Army headquarters.

There was a moment's hush in the great room, then a sound of weeping, and suddenly the air was smote with a crash of cymbals, drums and tambourines, and there was borne out on the chilly air a deafening clamor through which ran the thread of a gospel tune, "There Were Ninety and Nine."—Chicago Tribune.

Quite Shocking.

The advent of electricity as a motive power has given rise to many queer [illegible] with the electric lights [illegible] riding in the street cars.

But the most startling experience comes from a cultured Back Bay woman, who says that a few nights ago on returning from a downtown trip she took off a wool en underskirt, and on giving it a shake was startled to see it flash all over with a sort of blue flame. She was so alarmed that she threw it across the room, and it fell behind a trunk. When she was ready for bed she attempted to take up the charged garment and it flamed at her again. Then, dropping it where she stood, she made a dash for the bed and huddled herself under the covering.

Even here, however, she was not safe, for her body was so electrified that its contact with the sheets set up a violent snapping.

She jumped from the bed in fresh alarm, and it was some time before she could find a resting place free from the shocking manifestations.

She explains the intensity of the phenomenon in her case by the theory that the house is crossed by many electric wires, by which the whole premises are "charged."—Boston Herald.

English Versus American Manners.

This may not be the right place to commend the remarks of a contributor to the Contributors' club of The Atlantic Monthly, who discourses on certain small particulars wherein English manners differ from American. The English gentleman, he finds, never says "sir" to any except royal persons. The American gentleman often says "sir" to his elders, and commonly to such of his equals as he desires to treat with respect. So the ideal American gentleman aims to be courteous to his inferiors, as he regards them, and at least as civil to his servants as they are to him. Whereas, this contributor says, "The English servant, or underling, likes to be treated brusquely and arrogantly, and the English gentleman seldom fails to gratify him."

Most of us who are good Americans believe that American manners are based on sound ideas and would far rather see our cousins emulate our behavior than ourselves swing at all into line with theirs. Only in "the service" it is possible that American manners may be less serviceable than elsewhere and English manners more desirable. And if that is so it is a pity, and the officers are entitled to our sympathy and an increase of pay.—Harper's Weekly.

She Papered Her Floors.

A woman to whom the ordinary dust collecting, moth breeding carpet was an abomination, and who could not afford to have all her rooms refloored in hard woods, adopted this expedient for some of the seldom used ones: She selected at a paper hanger's a heavy wall paper, dark in color and conventional in design. She laid the floor first with brown paper. Then she put down the wall paper by first coating it with paste and smoothing it down. When the floor was all papered, she sized and varnished it with dark glue and common varnish, which deepened the color. When it was dry, she scattered a few rugs about, and her paper carpets have lasted for years.—Chicago Tribune.

For Bronchitis

"I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months, during which time I have suffered intensely from pneumonia followed by bronchitis. After trying various remedies without benefit, I began the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the effect has been marvelous, a single dose relieving me of choking, and securing a good night's rest."—T. A. Higginbotham, Gen. Store, Long Mountain, Va.

La Grippe

"Last Spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breath seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

Lung Trouble

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured. I can confidently recommend this medicine."—Franz Hofmann, Clay Centre, Kans.

The American flag is the emblem of the Citizens' ticket.

Put an X opposite the name of the man you wish to vote for.

The G. A. R. holds its regular meeting at Grand Army hall to-night.

A decree of divorce has been granted to Frank E. Johnson from Addie M. Johnson.

The Gold and Globe Hill Mining company has been granted a patent on the Gold King lode.

Don't forget the [illegible] about supper to be given at No. 15 North Tejon street, Shump's old store, from 5 to 9 o'clock.

The Pythian Sisters will give a concert at Durkee hall Saturday evening, April 1, to which the public is invited.

Vote or get out is the motto under the new law. If you fail to exercise your privilege of voting to-day you lose your registration.

Mr. Mrs. H. E. Bassett are rejoicing in the presence of an Easter baby boy which arrived on Sunday morning at 23 South Weber street.

Let the friends of the Citizens' ticket get out this morning and work until the polls are closed. Do not be content with voting, get others to vote.

County Assessor Irvine has fixed the valuations on property in this city for the year 1893, and those who wish to inspect them should call at his office.

The Colorado Hotelkeepers' association meets in this city to-morrow evening at The Antlers. It is composed of the leading hotel men of the State.

The firm of R. G. Kimball & Co. yesterday sold its entire plumbing business to McTavish & Joyce, who will remove it to their stand under the Club Coffee house.

Voters -if you wish to vote the Citizens' ticket straight put an X beside the flag. If you wish to vote for any candidate on the ticket put an X to the right of his name.

The ball given by the Ancient Order of Hibernians last evening in Durkee hall was largely attended and a success in every way. The Opera House orchestra furnished the music.

The last Musical Club concert of this season will be given at the college chapel Saturday at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Tucker will sing and Mr. Pearson give two numbers. Entrance 75c at the door.

Mr. and Mrs. Feltwell and family left last night over the Rock Island for Philadelphia, where they will remain a few weeks and then go to Atlantic City to spend the summer season.

The members of the Sons of Veterans' camp have started their subscription paper to secure funds for the Fourth of July celebration and encampment. They hope to secure $[illegible] over and above the sum voted by the council.

The Denver and Rio Grande has put on a new train to Leadville, leaving here at 4:30 p. m. arriving at Leadville at 12:35 a. m. They have also reduced the rate to all points; Leadville to Aspen inclusive, to $8, and to Grand Junction, to $12.

A boy aged 14 years, the son of a shoemaker, was arrested by the police yesterday for stealing money belonging to his father. He received money paid in at the shop and then denied receiving it. He will have a trial to-day.

Mayor Sprague writes THE GAZETTE from San Diego, Cal., that he will return home about the latter part of this month. The Mayor writes, "Your paper is greatly improved and has received many compliments from visitors in this city."

The second Golden Gate excursion of the Pennsylvania Railroad company reached this city Saturday night and remained until yesterday morning. The excursion numbered about fifty and all were quartered at The Antlers.

Enough sneers and insinuations are cast at our city government now and if continued will result in injury to the city. The best remedy is to vote for a ticket on which the names of men appear whom no one can sneer at without showing their own littleness.

Irving W. Bonbright and Arthur A. Cornduff have secured the offices lately occupied by Proudfit, Edsall & Coffin, Hagerman block, where they are now prepared to do a strictly commission business under the firm name of Irving W. Bonbright & Co. They will have strong eastern connections.

Miss Grey, the Spanish dancer from Cork of the "Turkish Bath" company, who had trouble with officers here over an attachment, has arranged her financial difficulty, and yesterday wrote for her baggage. It was forwarded to Denver where she is playing an engagement at one of the variety theaters as a Denver "society" lady. She dances with a masque on, and poses as a society queen, who by the force of circumstances is compelled to earn a livelihood by pirouting on her toes, but who does not wish to be recognized by her Capitol Hill friends who are supposed to crowd the variety show every night. Those who saw the "Turkish Bath" show here will admit the masque is a good thing.

Sunday, Detective Reno of the Denver police came to this city and in company with Policeman Joel Atkinson went to Manitou and arrested a colored man named Charles Norton and a colored woman named Estella Jones. The pair are wanted at [illegible] N. Y., and were located at Manitou by the police of this city a day or two ago. The two worked for Dr. Petrie of Phillipsburg as servants and during his absence broke open a safe and took $2,[illegible] in cash and two English £5 bank [illegible]. They went to Chicago and [illegible] in great style for a few weeks but were finally robbed of a large part of the money. Then they came to Denver where Norton worked at the Brown Palace hotel, and then to Manitou where they were employed at the Barker when arrested. Information regarding them was received through the Chicago police. Both of the negroes have several aliases. They are now in the Arapahoe jail awaiting extradition papers.

"Larry the Lord."

The well known and well deserved reputation of Mr. R. E. Graham drew a large number to the opera house last evening. "Larry the Lord" is not exactly a comic opera, and not exactly a plain comedy. In fact it would be rather difficult to classify it, but it is funny beyond all doubt and affords Mr. Graham an ample opportunity to display those peculiarities which have made him so popular. The support was generally good. Miss Marie Laurens as the wealthy widow made a good appearance and sang with sweetness and wonderful range. Miss Mamie Cerbi as Jennie Tadpole, the stage struck chambermaid, did some excellent work. The dancing by Miss Edith Craske was good. Altogether it was a good performance and well deserved the attention it received.

Stage Coach Accident.

The [illegible] of the Bassett stage from Cripple Creek had an exciting time Sunday afternoon and it would seem escaped death only by a miracle. The stage line uses the route over Cheyenne mountain, and about 2 o'clock when near the Wade ranch the horses became frightened and ran away. The outfit soon went over the hillside, the coach making a complete revolution and landing on the wheels again. The passengers were scattered in all directions, but it is hoped that none of them are seriously injured. Three of the strangers were taken to the Sisters hospital. The injured were as follows:

C. A. Ferrin of Dunn's Mercantile Agency, Denver, internal injuries.

G. W. Ferman, Lytle Lock and Safe company, Cincinnati, O., serious injuries in back and breast, ribs broken.

R. P. Grove, a miner of Cripple Creek, shoulder dislocated.

J. E. Neville of Illinois, sprained shoulder.

J. C. C. Watt of Winchester, Ill., scalp wound and badly bruised.

W. C. Stark, Colorado Springs, scalp wound and bruised arm.

J. E. Boyle, Colorado Springs, bruised about the head.

Mr. and Mrs. Moghabghab are receiving goods from Damascus and Constantinople, embracing every variety of embroideries; curtains, woven by hand-looms, in delicate shades of silks and gold thread, etc. Goods on exhibition at 211 North Cascade, where they will take pleasure in showing them.

The Mountain Roads Warring.

There were no further developments yesterday in the little rate war inaugurated between the D. & R. G. and the Midland. The Midland people announced the cut on Saturday to all points west of Leadville, and it was promptly met by the Rio Grande. The rate now stands, $8 to points west of Leadville as far as Aspen; $12 to Grand Junction. Yesterday the Midland took off two night trains and the Rio Grande put on one.

A gentleman prominently connected with the Midland was asked concerning the cut in rates yesterday. He said that it was made because of the Rio Grande's unwillingness to divide business fairly, that between the two roads ten trains have been run every day when two would have done the business. He could not say whether a further cut would be made, but thought it probable. The cutting is being done west of Leadville as making it on the eastern divisions would involve the South Park road which is not a party to the quarrel.

Dividing the Spoils.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell to-day appointed 119 fourth class postmasters. Illinois heads the list with 19, Kentucky follows with 16, Missouri 14, Maine 13, Tennessee 13, and Virginia and Indiana 7 each. The total number of postoffices of all classes is found to be 68,060.
